

organizing for social change pdf

Community organizing is a process where people who live in proximity to each other come together into an organization that acts in their shared self-interest. [citation needed]Unlike those who promote more-consensual community building, community organizers generally assume that social change necessarily involves conflict and social struggle in order to generate collective power for the powerless.

Introduction. The formal managerial hierarchy in modern organizations is as persistent as are calls for its replacement. The managerial hierarchy, which took hold in organizations in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, has proved remarkably resistant to change. 1 Norms, mindsets, and cultural assumptions that pervade modern organizational life combine to reinforce an all but ...
